

Dogs In Your Wedding Ceremony

It's All About The Ceremony!
www.weddingceremonypro.com

I have a few closing words for you about love. In my quest to bring these pearls of wisdom into your everyday lives I thought comparing love to Cats and quotes about them would be appropriate.

First, “There is, incidentally, no way of talking about cats that enables one to come off as a sane person.”

That could also be said about love.

“With the qualities of cleanliness, affection, patience, dignity, and courage that cats have, how many of us, I ask you, would be capable of becoming cats?”

Keeping this in mind, as a married couple, your home will not always be clean, patience can run thin, affection may wane and dignity can sometimes be stepped on. Good thing you aren't asked to be cats - you are simply asked to be human, trying your best, putting love first and forgiving and moving on.

“As anyone who has ever been around a cat for any length of time well knows cats have enormous patience with the limitations of the human kind.”

That's a great lesson to learn from a cat!

“Thousands of years ago, cats were worshipped as gods. Cats have never forgotten this."

Take time to remember when you first fell in love you also worshiped each other - it may come in handy!

“A meow massages the heart “

And lastly, "No matter how much cats fight, there always seems to be plenty of kittens." -Abraham Lincoln

I do not claim to be the original author of this script. I am sharing it like this to make it easier for anyone to use.