

Wedding Vow Idea 37

It's All About The Ceremony!

In storybooks, kids make tin can telephones with string stretched through side yards, so that best friend can stay connected even after playtime is over. When you and I met, I almost instantly felt a similar kind of string connecting our hearts, and over the past two years, I've felt that string growing stronger.

Today, as we tie the knot, we are taking that tender string and making it a strong rope, holding each other near and safe no matter where we are in the world. I promise you that through I years together I will constantly work to strengthen our tie to one another, and to increase my already enormous love for you. I will be true and strong and no matter what, always connected to you.
